Mentors

VSP mentors are volunteers that have a desire to give back to the veteran community and are deeply committed to the success of student veterans. Many of the mentors are veterans themselves but it is not a requirement. The mentors are spread out across many industries and companies like Delta Airlines, Boeing, Lockheed Martin, or smaller local companies. The VSP mentors are essential to the success of the program

Feedbacks from mentors:

"The veterans success program is a great program that allows students to be able to develop relationships with professionals in their field who can help them get internships and jobs."

"Student A was able to start her own business in a pilot program during the VSP and is ready to launch after graduation"

" Student B was a great student. VSP gave us an opportunity to connect outside the classroom. We overcame challenges that student veterans faced."

"Great to build professional/personal relationships"

"Giving back to Auburn"

"Able to mentor student veterans was a plus"
